

Charleston Forge

Furniture Made With Pride In Boone, North Carolina

Designer Spotlight

Marta Mitchell Interior Design

Greensboro, NC

Johnny and Karen Tart's Downtown Penthouse Perch

"This penthouse is amazing with its modern design work done with the historical downtown surrounding it."

O. Henry Magazine, January 2020

Welcome to Johnny and Karen Tart's downtown Greensboro, NC penthouse. Having always leaned towards traditional and transitional styles, this time they enlisted the help of Marta Mitchell Interior Design to achieve a sleeker, more contemporary vibe. The goal they presented to Marta was to create an urban feel that wasn't industrial.

They loved all of her ideas. "We liked what we saw on Marta Mitchell's website and we knew it was going to work," Karen and Johnny told O. Henry Magazine.

"Mitchell helped them to create a refuge anchored by blacks and grays, glass and iron", the O. Henry article said. "For warmth and verve, ambers and ochres play with blues and greens."

There are plenty of conversation pieces for visitors. Mitchell designed the dining chairs based on Charleston Forge's popular Emmitt Lounge Chair. Andrew Pearson Glass supplied the textured, fusion glass top for the dining table. The custom counterstools are also built by Charleston Forge and the bedroom features a Wilkes King Bed.

The low-backed, custom counterstools leave the view of downtown Greensboro unobstructed.

The contemporary Wilkes King Bed with a Cashew on Maple headboard.

We are, as always, proud to be American Made.